

PRESS RELEASE
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Micro-Coax Announces Appointment of Jay Stone Associates as Northern California Representative

Pottstown, PA - September 4, 2007: Micro-Coax is pleased to announce the appointment of Jay Stone Associates as their representative in Northern California. Specializing in the sales of wireless, RF, Fiber Optic and semiconductor assembly products, Jay Stone Associates is committed to providing customers with superior performance and reliable products.

A pioneer in the RF and microwave industry in the bay area, Jay Stone established his sales representation firm on the principle of maintaining honesty and forthrightness in all dealings with customers and principals – a standard that is still strongly adhered to today at Jay Stone Associates.

Micro-Coax is excited to have Jay Stone Associates joining the organization and looks forward to building a long lasting business relationship.

About Micro-Coax:

Micro-Coax is a leading provider of transmission line solutions for radio frequency (RF) and microwave applications. Serving the defense, satellite, telecommunications, test and measurement markets for more than forty years, Micro-Coax has earned a reputation for mission performance and excellent customer service. A broad technology base allows Micro-Coax to quickly respond to customer needs with optimized solutions of coaxial cables, connectors, harness assemblies and conductive fibers.

For further information:

E-mail to techinfo@micro-coax.com